ACA EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Dr. Vicki Hawsey
President

On behalf of the Executive Committee of the Alabama College Association, welcome to Mobile, the lovely Adam's Mark Hotel, and the home of Mardis Gras! Be assured that you will leave this conference renewed, recharged, and ready to begin Transforming Alabama's Communities Through Visionary Education. We have outstanding speakers of national and international acclaim, such as Dr. Mark Milliron of the League for Innovation who will engage us in Learning Dialogues. Dr. John Roueche will help us learn that Excellence is Everybody's Business. In a series of three sessions, Dr. Hunter Boylan will share proven strategies for ensuring the success of developmental students. Dr. John Gardner and his team will identify best practices in Institutions of Excellence that assure success of First-Year Freshmen and share Roles and Opportunities for the Faculty. Mr. Greg Gray will encourage organizations to Look Beyond Satisfaction, and Dr. Devin Stephenson will use humor and wit to broaden our knowledge of customer service.

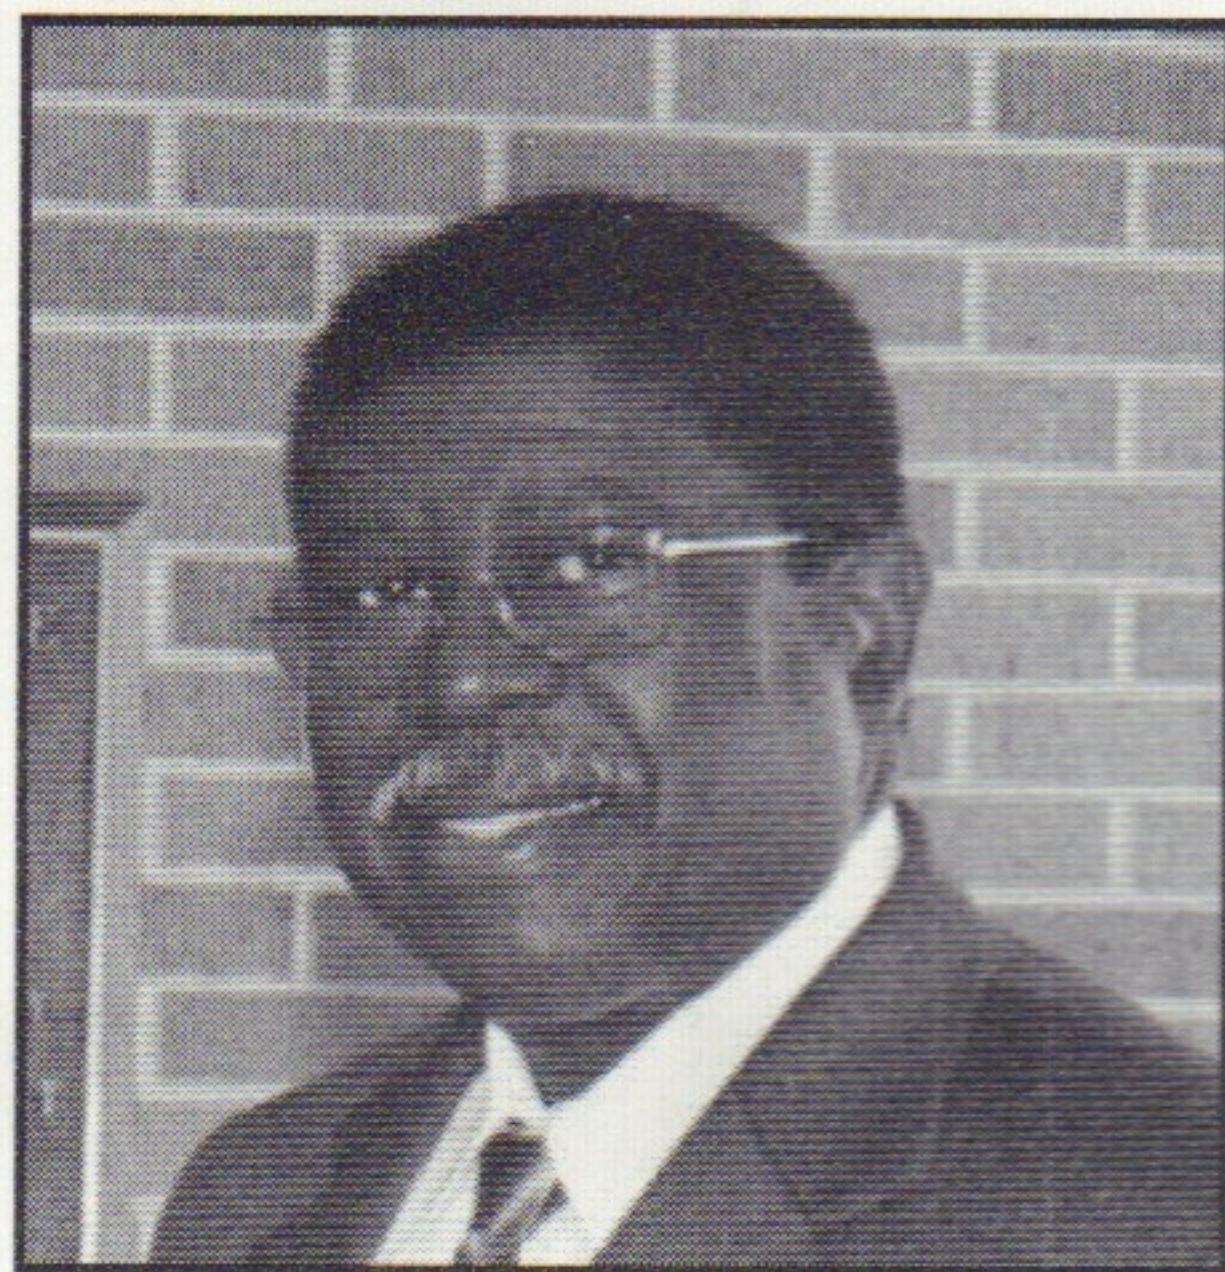

We have a host of workshops presented by our expert colleagues in the Alabama College System who are sharing innovations and best practices, as well as three Commission meetings, and eight association meetings. Overall, the annual conference of the Alabama College Association includes 77 opportunities for your professional development. We know you will enjoy these three days of professional development.

Enjoy your stay in Mobile, take advantage of this opportunity to enable your college to continue Transforming Alabama's Communities Through Visionary Education, and thank you for your support of the Alabama College Association.

ACA SPEAKER BIOGRAPHIES

MARK DAVID MILLIRON • KEYNOTE SPEAKER – OPENING SESSION

Dr. Mark Milliron is the keynote speaker for the opening session of the ACA Conference. Dr. Milliron is the President and Chief Executive Officer of the League for Innovation in the Community College and has served in the capacity since 1999. The League for Innovation in the Community College is an international consortium dedicated to catalyzing the community college movement. The League hosts conferences and institutes, develops Web resources, conducts research, produces publications, provides services, and leads projects and initiatives in a continuing effort to make a positive difference for students and communities.

Prior to coming to the League, Dr. Milliron served as the Executive Director for Global Learning Initiatives with Oracle Corporation. Before joining Oracle, Milliron served as the League for Innovation's

Vice President and Chief Operating Officer. Prior to those positions Dr. Milliron was the Vice President of Academic and Student Services at Mayland Community College in North Carolina.

Dr. Milliron began his education at Mesa Community College in Arizona and subsequently transferred to Arizona State University where he graduated summa cum laude with his Bachelor's of Science in Organizational Communication. He earned his masters in Organizational Communications also from ASU, where he was honored as a Graduate Regents Scholar. He received his doctorate in Educational Administration from the University of Texas at Austin, where he was a Kellogg Senior Research Fellow. He currently serves as a Distinguished Visiting Faculty Member at the University of Texas at Austin's Graduate Program for Community College Leadership. He was recently honored by the University of Texas at Austin's College of Education as a Distinguished Graduate for his service to the field of education. Dr. Milliron was also named one of the top Shapers of the Future by Converge Magazine in August 2000.

JOHN ROUECHE • KEYNOTE SPEAKER – GENERAL SESSION

Dr. John E. Roueche is a professor and director of the Community College Leadership Program at The University of Texas at Austin, where he holds the Sid W. Richardson Regents Chair in Community College Leadership. The Texas doctoral program in Community College Leadership is the nation's oldest and has produced more presidents, vice presidents, and deans of American community colleges than any other university graduate program.

Roueche has received national recognition for his research, teaching, service, and overall leadership, including the 1988 B. Lamar Johnson Leadership Award from the League for Innovation in the Community College, and the 1986 National Distinguished Leadership Award from the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges. He has been honored with the Distinguished Research Publication Award from the Council of Universities and Colleges in 1990, 1994, and 1996. In 1998 he was honored by the University of Texas with its Career Research Excellence Award, the University's top research prize.

Dr. Roueche is a community college graduate (Mitchell Community College) and received his Ph.D. in higher education administration from Florida State University. He has served as a high school history and English teacher, community college dean of students and instructional dean, and faculty member at UCLA and Duke University before joining The University of Texas at Austin.

Since 1970, Dr. Roueche has spoken to more than 1300 colleges and universities on topics of teaching and leadership excellence. He is the author of 34 books and more than 150 articles and chapters focused on leadership, teaching, and learning in American colleges and universities.

DEVIN STEPHENSON • SPEAKER-COMMISSION ON SUPPORT

Dr. Devin Stephenson was recently appointed the tenth President of Snead State Community College in Boaz, Alabama. Prior to his appointment he worked at Bevill State Community College, one of the largest community colleges in the state of Alabama. During his tenure at Bevill, Dr. Stephenson served as Program Coordinator for Leadership Walker

County, an intensive leadership development program presented in partnership with the Chamber of Commerce of Walker County. He authored the 2000-2001 curriculum and serves as the primary facilitator. In 2001, he initiated the Youth Leadership program and directed 35 student leaders through an intensive study of leadership principles and practices.

In 1999, Stephenson directed Bevill State's successful institutional self-study and SACS committee visit that resulted in a ten-year reaffirmation of the College's accreditation. He also served as a presenter and consultant at the 1999 SACS Annual Meeting. During his 26-year higher education career, Dr. Stephenson has served in a number of capacities, including Financial Aid Officer, Director of Admissions, Federal Programs Director, Instructor, Telecommunications Coordinator, Title Compliance Office, ADA Coordinator, SACS Self-Study Director and Liaison, Coordinator of College Athletics, Dean of Students, Campus Dean, and Director of Public Relations. He was instrumental in the founding of the Alabama College System Public Relations Association for which he was elected by his peers to serve as Vice President and President.

Stephenson earned an associate in science degree from Walker Junior College, a bachelor of arts degree in Business Administration from Birmingham Southern College, and his master's and doctoral degrees in Administration of Higher Education from the University of Alabama.

JOHN GARDNER • SPEAKER-COMMISSION ON FACULTY

Dr. John N. Gardner is an educator, university professor and administrator, author, editor, public speaker, consultant, change agent, student retention specialist, first-year students advocate and an initiator and scholar of the American first-year and senior year reform movements. He is the founder and Executive Director of the Policy Center on the First Year of College, funded by a grant from the Pew Charitable Trusts and The Atlantic Philanthropies. The Center is based at Brevard College, North Carolina. He also founded and directed the National Resource Center for the First Year Experience and Students in Transition at the University of South Carolina, where he is the Senior Fellow of the Center, and Distinguished Professor Emeritus of Library and Information Science.

Gardner is the recipient of numerous local and national professional awards including USC's highest award for teaching excellence, the AMOCO Award. He was also named the 1998 recipient of USC's Administrative Affirmative Action Award, and most recently received the University's award created and named in his honor, "The John N. Gardner Inspiration Faculty Award" to be given to a member of the University faculty "who has made substantial contributions to the learning environment in campus residence hall life."

Dr. Gardner received his bachelor's of arts in social sciences from Marietta College, Ohio, and his master of arts in American Studies from Purdue University, Indiana. He is the recipient of seven honorary doctoral degrees recognizing him for his contributions to American higher education from Marietta College, Baldwin-Wallace College, Bridgewater State College, Millikin University, Purdue University, The University of Teeside (UK) and Rowan University.

Gardner is best known as the initiator (in 1982) of an international reform movement in higher education to call attention to and improve what he has coined "The Freshman Year Experience."

GREG GRAY • SPEAKER-COMMISSION ON STUDENTS AND ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Greg Gray is founder and President of Renaissance Unlimited, Inc., a company that focuses on building leaders, teams, and customer service through building better relationships. Gray is becoming one of the most sought after new speakers on the speaking and training circuit today. His workshops and seminars have empowered tens of thousands of people across America, the Caribbean, Europe, and Pacific Rim.

In 1994, Gray co-authored the largest Customer Service training course in U.S. history. The program, entitled "Excellent Service!

Handle with Care!" was attended by more than 110,000 U.S. Postal Service employees and has become a standard video training series for all new USPS retail employees. More recently, he has created a number of speaking topics and training modules titled "The Renaissance Services." This series of programs introduces a variety of topics dealing with service, communication, and relationship building.

He received his bachelor's degree in Communications from Oberlin College, and has more than 15 years of experience working in sales, customer service, training and management in industries ranging from retail jewelry to telecommunications. He is a member of the National Speakers Association and is listed in "Who's Who in Professional Speaking."

HUNTER R. BOYLAN • SPECIAL SPEAKER

Dr. Hunter R. Boylan is the Director of the National Center for Developmental Education and a Professor of Higher Education at Appalachian State University, Boone, North Carolina. He also serves as the Editor of Research in Developmental Education, is a member of the Editorial Boards of the Journal of Developmental Education, the Journal of Teaching and Learning, and is the Principal Investigator for the ongoing National Study of Developmental Education. He is the current Chairperson of the American Council of Developmental Education Associations and the former President of the National Association for Developmental Education (NADE). In the spring of 2000, he was named as a Founding Fellow of the American Council of Developmental Education Associations.

Dr. Boylan received his Ph.D. in higher education from Bowling Green State University in Ohio, his master's degree in counseling psychology from Temple University in Philadelphia, and his bachelor's degree in history and political science from Miami University in Ohio. In 1980, he became the founding Director of the Kellogg Institute for the Training and Certification of Developmental Educators and graduate faculty member at Appalachian State University. In 1987, he helped establish and served as a director of the nation's first doctoral program in developmental Education at Grambling State University in Louisiana. After serving briefly as a Visiting Scholar at Penn State University, he returned to Appalachian State in 1989 to direct the National Center for Developmental Education and coordinate the university's graduate program in developmental education.

A nationally recognized authority on developmental education, Dr. Boylan has authored or co-authored 2 books and over 70 articles, book chapters, or monographs. His comments on developmental education have appeared in numerous national newspapers and national education publications.

Dr. Boylan will present a series of three workshops on Monday, November 25, focusing on developmental education.
